Board Recommends 6 Projects For Street Improvement Program

Rep. Poage Speaks To Cameron Groups

Congressman W. R. "Bob" Poage, Waco, addressed Rotarians and a group of 75 countians in two speeches last week in Cameron.

In a speech at the Cameron Country Club, Poage described his travels through the continent of Africa for county agricultural and business leaders.

Before Cameron Rotarians earlier the same day, he discussed the dam and water control system being implemented in the Brazos Valley with federal funds.

He said that the project was begun 22 years ago and has had appropriations of $40 million to start on dams on the Boske, San Gabriel Upper Leon, Lampasas Rivers flowing into the Brazos River.

Referring to the controversy over location of the Lanesport Dam on the San Gabriel, Poage said that engineers were resurveying the river sites for consideration of a location above Georgetown and the proposed site at Lanesport below Georgetown.

He noted that people in Lanesport area did not seem to want the dam located there, but engineering data would be the final determining factor as to which site would be used.

Elsewhere he noted that dams are being built at Waco, partially with Waco money, and at Stillhouse Hollow near Belton. The Belton Dam is part of the Brazos Valley program, he said.

In the talk at the Country Club Poage described his tour of Africa through Morocco, Belgian Congo, Union of South Africa and up the Nile River to Egypt and through other African countries.

Study To Go Before Council For Review

The City Council Tuesday night will consider a six-point recommendation for a city-wide street improvement program drawn up by the City Planning Commission.

Top priority for development or improvements went to a threeway project on, Jackson St., Sixth St., east and west and Orchard St. south.

Chairman Morris Eplen said the No. 1 project proposed by the commission would improve city thoroughfares that carry a heavy percentage of local city traffic.

In detail, the first proposal would mean construction:

ONE—On North Jackson from Country Club Rd. south to E. Sixth St.

TWO—On Sixth St. from North Jackson west to Orchard St.

THREE—On Orchard St. south from West Sixth St. to US 190.

The first project received a unanimous vote of the commission, Eplen said.

Eplen noted the project would tie in with through improvements on US 77 east on Fourth St.

The other five recommended projects in order of priority are:

No. Two—Rework and resurface N. Crockett St. from Fourth and Crockett to Crockett and W. 12th Sts., and W. 12th St. from corner of North Travis and 12th to North Austin.

No. Three—Rework and resurface S. Nolan Ave. from W. Main St. to W. Batte St.

No. 4—Rework and resurface S. Karnes Ave. from W. Batte St. to US 190.

No. Five—Rework and resurface W. Main St. from Orchard St. to Columbus Ave.

No. Six—Rework and resurface North Fannin from E. 12th St. to the North City limits.

Council action on the recommendations will implement a long-range program of street improvements, using some $50,000 in city funds available for construction of city streets, according to Mayor Bassel Wilson.

The commission heard estimates from city officials that would cost the city and property owners each $3.58 per foot of curbing, gutter and asphalt surfacing.

300 Hear Myers At Grid Banquet

A crowd of 300 Monday heard Texas A&M's Jim Myers speak on his 1958 football season and past grid experiences during the Quarterback Club's annual grid dinner.

Myers, head football coach at A&M, was introduced by Niley Smith, Jr. Master of ceremonies was Robert Nelson.

Myers said "winning isn't everything, it's the only thing" in his discussion of A&M football and his coaching career.

He predicted that A&M, Baylor, and Arkansas again would scramble for the Southwest Conference celler in the 1959 season.

"We fumbled 30 times within our opponents' 20 yardline this season, but we won four games in which we rated underdogs," he said.

Lauds Milstead

He lauded A&M's Milstead, but was concerned about his need for team speed and power next year.

The program's featured speaker, Myers followed Yoe Coach Jim Speer at the podium, who introduced his varsity players for the 1958 season. The Yoemen wre co-champions along with Belton in the 18-AA football conference.

Tri-captains Jesse Kirk, George Zarosky and Raymond Tepera presented gifts to Speer and Coaches Murphy Webster, Bill Kruger, and Bill Michalka, and band director Francis Cox.

Quarterback President Charlie Burke also presented gifts to Cox and the coaches for their work during the past grid sason.

Myers said that social contacts and adjustments made through football are among the important things that young men can make. He rated experience in athletics one of the best ways to build character.

Look For Character

Column 99

By Frank M. Luecke

It's hunting season, all right, and some interesting hunting stories are circulating the County of Milam, City of Cameron, as the legal jargon goes.

Without question, the wildest one involved three hunters and a horse. It happens to be a true story, our informant tells us, but he won't say where or when it happened.

The triumverate of hunters was driving to a favorite hunting area. Upon arrival, they parked their car while one of the hunters went up to a farmhouse to clear with the farmer before the trio went into the field.

"Sure, go ahead and hunt all you want to," said the farm owner to the man. "But I'd like you to do a favor for me."

"What's that?" queried the hunter.

"Come over here," was the reply. "See that old glue pot yonder in the field," said the farmer, pointing a tan old swaybacked horse in the distance.

"Yes," the hunter said.

"Well do me a favor and shoot that poor critter while your huntin'."

"You're sure you want me to," the hunter said.

"Okay," said the hunter as he went to rejoin his friends.

Later the three men were trudging along in the fields, looking for deer. The hunter who was asked to shoot the horse had not told the other men of his extra mission.

They went a bit further in the field when all three came upon the farmer's old horse.

"Say," said the hunter who had talked to the farmer, "I always wanted to shoot a horse."

"Man, are you crazy?" screamed one of his partners. "That horse belongs to the man who's letting us hunt on his property." The third man nodded his belief in the insanity of the first hunter.

"Well, we haven't seen any game and I'd like to shoot me a horse. It doesn't look much like a good horse anyhow."

With that, he raised his gun and dropped the horse with one shot. Then, he turned around to tell his friends it was okay, that the farmer had asked him to do the deed.

They had departed.

It was several hours before his friends either believed his story or before he found them.

Five teen-agers were injured, two seriously, Sunday night in a one-car accident on FM Rd. 1600 about two miles south of Cameron.

St. Nick Draws Record Crowd

8,000 Pack City For Santa Parade

Almost half of Milam County was in Cameron Friday for the biggest Santa Parade in the county's history.

Officials estimated that 7,500 to 8,000 people lined the downtown streets of Cameron to view the mile-long parade of five bands, saddle club and 32 floats, cars and marching units.

Winners were: 1. Cameron Parent-Teachers Association; 2. the St. Anthony P-TA; 3. Davilla School, and 4. the Bethel AME Church.

Santa Follows

Santa's float, escorted by members of the Milam National Guard unit, brought up the rear of the parade column. He returned to the courthouse square after completing the parade route through the downtown area.

Officials had rigged up a fenced approach route for youngsters to see Santa at the courthouse, but even then the eager crowd bulged its way around the Christmas visitor.

All the clamor for Santa was accompanied by hi-fi music from atop the courthouse while the line of youngsters passed by the 25-foot lighted Christmas tree. Both facilities were provided by the Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Record Parade

"Participation and crowd attendance were the best in the event's history, Moseley told The Herald.

About 10 floats vied for the prize money. Also in the parade were bands from Rosebud, Rogers, Thorndale and Cameron.

Patrol units from the sheriff's department, city and state police directed the parade through its mile and one-half course.

The event tied in with Christmas Dollar Day termed "a resounding success" by participating merchants.

Chamber officials extended their appreciation for the enthusiastic participation and attendance.

Tom Murray's Column

IT HAD TO HAPPEN!

This might be titled, the bombshell that never dropped. It was an accepted fact Darrell Royal's Texas Longhorns would reap practically no benefit from the school's thin frosh backfield of 1957.

But an amazing thing happened. Roger Fielder, a strapping 195-pound fullback out of tiny Florence became one of the Longhorns' outstanding performers during spring training.

This was a youngster who could not make even the motley Shorthorn backfield three months previously. But he had Royal's staff buzzing. "He's going to be a heckuva football player," one assured.

But, alas, came fall and out went a news release: "Fielder quits Longhorns."

One of Royal's aides left it this way: "Roger had never had a job where he made any mony to speak of. He got to enjoying making money on a summer job we got him, so he just quit school and kept the job."

"I think," said Texas Freshman Coach Bob Schulze, "that Fielder is coming back to school this spring. I believe he learned the facts of life in a hurry on that physical labor." .... Did you know that Charles Batten, La Marque's 260-pound all-state tackle of 1956 is a relative of Peppy Blount, the University of Texas end who later became a state representative? Batten chose Baylor but ran afoul of the books .. Angleton could have two of the nation's outstanding collegiate linemen next fall. Some fell Larry Stephens, the 240-pound Texas tackle could approach All-America, while Joe Munson is a prime candidate as an Aggie guard .. Ask a Brazosport fan who the greatest athlete Freport from All-American, Walter (Red) Cecil, a man who never made it who the greatest athlete Freeport ever milled and many answers may be surprising. Although King Hill is only one year removed from All-American, Walter (Red) Cecil, a man who never made it remains foremost in the minds of many. A 9.6 sprinter. Cecil, a man still elicits a drool out of Athletic Director Herbert Hopper, although it has ben 23 years since Red tugged on a Freeport uniform. A knee injury at Texas A&M probably prevented Cecil's becoming an all-time Aggie immortal .. Glenn Lippman, the Texas Aggie great out of El Campo, was one of the officials in the season-ending 20-14 Baytown victory over Ball High at Galveston, a battle which ended in a flurry of fists.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

PHILIP NOLAN

Pioneer in the Cause of Lone Star Liberty

Not all of the bold frontiersmen who envisioned the magnificent future of Texas and helped to open up this great territory ever received due recognition of their championship of freedom. One of these, Irish-born Philip Nolan, history identifies only as a horse-trader. Undoubtedly he was .. and a good one. Four times between 1791 and 1800 Nolan was sent into Texas to obtain horses for the regiments of Louisiana and the U. S. Four times he delivered the horses .. and more .. to the Governor of Louisiana and to Thomas Jefferson, in Washington. He brought them the first Anglo-American-made maps of the wilderness beyond the Sabine River.

As to whether horses or invaluable maps were his real objective the official records are discreetly silent. But the Spanish Governor of Mexico, Juan Bautista de Elguezabel, considered him a first-class menace to "New Spain." On August 8, 1800, he issued orders for Nolan's arrest, should he cross the border again. Nolan's answer was to come back by way of Nacogdoches and build a fort near the present Nolan Creek. He was killed on March 4, 1800, while fighting a Spanish force sent to arrest him. But his purpose was achieved .. the world knew what was here, the way was open and Americans turned their eyes toward Texas.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland .. "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

TELEPHONE TALK

by C. L. Carson, Manager

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

The year 1958 is fast drawing to a close; and since this will be my last "Telephone Talk" column for this year, I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation to all our Cameron customers for the business you have given us during the past year.

We made an extra effort to improve both local and long distance service in 1958, and we hope the service will be even better in 1959. Our most important job is to render the best possible service and to strive constantly to improve that service. We are all looking forward to serving our Cameron customers next year.

Before the Holiday season is upon us, I'd like to wish every one a "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year" from all of us here at the Telephone Company.

FAMILY GET-TO-GETHER

Again as we approach this Holiday Season, plans are being made to celebrate Christmas with our families and those who are near and dear to us. Many families however will be unable to get together for various reasons. For those who will be unable to visit with their families in person, I would suggest you plan a visit by long distance. Station-to-station calls are economical. Reduced rates apply every night after 6:00 p.m., Holidays, and Sundays. Calls go thru twice as fast when you call by number and are much cheaper.

Due to the expected heavy volumn of traffic on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, I would suggest that you place calls early.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HUSBANDS

If most of you husbands are like me, you fall into the same old trap every Christmas.

You go out and buy your wife that special something she wants, then sit back and relax, happy in the thought that you're going to please her. Suddenly about a week before the big day, you realize all your eggs are in one basket. Mom will have one nice gift —but that's all. Everyon eelse, meanwhile, will have several packages under the tree.

If this is about to happen at your house this year, here's an idea.

Give Mom a color extension telephone for Christmas. We'll give you a colorful gift-wrapped miniature telephone to put under the tree with the other presents, then have the real one looked up after Christmas.

Table phones now come in nine pretty colors. The new wall phones, so popular for kitchens, are available in seven colors. The cost is $10 plus installation.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Miss Henderson, Mr. Marek Wed

Miss Theodora Ann Henderson became the bride of Mr. Ladis W. Marek, Jr. Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Cameron.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Theodore Henderson of Route 2, Cameron and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ladis Marek Sr. also of Cameron.

The Rev. Aubrey F. Russell performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. D. C. James, Minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Hilliard Thomas and a reading, Browning's "How Do I Love Thee", was given by Miss Joyce Nicholson.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of hand-clipped chantilly lace over nylon. The molded bodice featured a scalloped neckline re-embroidered with pearls and jewels. Long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops featured a plain front panel with a panel of ruffles falling from the waistline in the back to form a circular chapel length train. The brides jewelry was cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Her three-tiered fingertip veil was attached to Pearl and jeweled coronet complemented by a short face veil. She carried a pearl covered Bible overlaid with a cascade bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and pale blue ribbons

Miss Elizabeth Newton was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Cecil L. Widner and Miss Daisy Henderson, sister of the bride.

There dresses were of royal blue chiffon velvet styled with fitted bodices; sabrina neckline and full cocktail length skirts with matching royal blue velvet head bands, white gloves shoes. TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION NEWSPAPER CONTESTS 1958 PRIZE WINNER

Asserting Ourselves . . .

It certainly showed what the combined efforts of civic, church and business groups would do to bring Milam Countians and residents of neighboring counties too to a Cameron activity.

Santa Claus, of course, has great capacity for drawing children, but the efforts of the Cameron Chamber and all participating businesses and city groups did much to make his Friday visit a rousing success.

Officials estimated that from 7,500 to 10,000 people lined the streets of Cameron for the parade. And most of them agreed that the parade, spotlighted by five bands, was one of the outstanding events in recent years.

It means that Cameron clearly asserted itself as the Christmas City of Central Texas with the combined co-operation of some 800 people in the parade plus the thoustands of others who indirectly made it a success.

That is co-operation. And that indicates nothing but success awaits Cameron's efforts in the future to achieve whatever goal she desires.

Cameron's Christmas music alone puts her in the ranks of the few Texas cities having that attraction. And her Christmas tree adds a Yuletide touch to the courthouse square.

When Milam's county seat can attract upwards to 10,000 people for one activity, there is practically no limit to what Cameron can undertake and accomplish.

Cameron again asserted its Cen-Tex influence Friday and can continue to outshine her sister Texas cities of comparable size.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Isn't Worried About Population Increase And How To Feed It

Dear editar:

Most towns in the United States naturally would like to get bigger. I don't know why, most of them don't have enough money to take care of the area they've already got, in fact, there aren't over fifteen or twenty people in the world and no cities and towns at all that have all the money they want to spend, but it's the truth, growth is what most cities are after.

Well, it looks like they're going to get it. I was reading last night in a magazine that the world's population is increasing by 47 million people a year. The world's population is now two and two-thirds billion, and at the rate it's increasing will be twice that in 50 years.

Clearly, if practically any town can hang on for 50 years, it's bound to grow. they've got to put all these people somewhere and there's no room for them out here on my farm. It looks like about all a chamber of commerce or civic booster club has to do to succeed is to hang on for a while longer.

However, what interested me about these figures was an answer an expert gave on whether there'd be enough food to feed all these people.

He said not to worry, there will be, the farmers of the world will do it, and the reason they will, he said, is "that if you offer enough money for the food, the food will be produced."

Now I don't know what sort of farmers this expert is acquainted with, but we don't know the same group. The group I know, since I'm one of them, works in just the opposite fashion. We don't say, if you'll pay us enough, we'll produce this food for you. What we say is, here's all this food, how much can you let us have for it?

And I guess it's as good a system as any. It saves a lot of responsibility. When I start a farming year, I don't know what I'm going to get for my work, but on the other hand the consumers don't know what I'm going to produce to eat. This way nobody's responsibile for anything. It's sort of like marriage. Parents don't know how their children are going to turn out, and children don't know how their parents are going to turn out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Teachers To Call For Legislative Program

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Foreshadowing many hours of debate in the next Legislature session is the steady build-up of proposals and counter-proposals for improving public schools

Texas State Teachers Association has voted to push a 19-point legislative program. TSTA will go along on most of the Hale-Aikin Study Committee's recommendations, though its own program omits a few H-A proposals and is lukewarm on others.

Most notable difference is that TSTA calls for larger teacher salary raises. Present minimum starting salary is $3,204. Hale Aikin Committee recommends hiking this to $3,800. TSTA is asking for $4,000 for bachelor's degree holders, $4,200 for those with a master's degree.

TSTA's salary increrases would cost some $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year more than the Hale Aikin plan. Overall, enactment of the Hale-Aikin school improvement plan would cost the state an estimated $110,000,000 a year more than is now being spent.

Other planks in the teacher's legislative platform are specific changes to expand or enrich school programs — driver education, special programs for gifted children, more funds for small schools, etc. TSTA approved the Hale-Aikin proposal for lengthening the school year, but indicated it would not go all-out for it.

Because they call for new spending at a time when the state already is in the red, no one expects smooth sailing for the school proposals. Governor Daniel warned teachers that he could not foresee available money for all the program. Many legislators are haunted on the one hand by the need to dig up new money just to keep that state in business and on the other by campaign promises not to vote for certain kinds of new taxes. They're inclined to view new spending plans like smallpox germs.

On the other hand, advocates of school improvement constitute a large and very active group. And all such efforts gained tremendous new leverage when Sputnik I whizzed into orbit.

For Bussiness Seeking

Texas Industrial Commission is asking the Legislature for a $100,000-a-year appropriation to be used in attracting new businesses to Texas.

Commission voted not to go into tourist promotion unless asked to by lawmakers.

Proposed budget allocates $16,500 annually for an executive director's salary and $75,000 a year for to Texas, made possible ov. 4 when voters removed an 82-year-old consitutional ban against spending state money for advertising.

Back To Work

For the first time in 1958, Texas non-farm employment broke the three-million mark in October.

Christmas rush and other gains may bring the number of workers to a new record high in December, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Settlement of 13 labor-management disputes involving 9,749 workers contributed to the October employment peak of 3,001,400.

December's bright hopes are based on expectation of the usual retail job increases, more employment in cotton processing due to a high per-acre yield, plus gains in manufacturing, transportation and school employment.

Old Age Rolls Shorter

Number of Txans receiving old age assistance payments dropped during the past year, but Texas still has a greater percentage of its population on state old age pensions than most other states.

State Welfare Department's report to the governor notes that an increase in he number of elderly persons receiving Federal Social Security payments is apparently causing the shrinkage in the state welfare rolls.

Despite this trend, Texas has 33.6 per cent of its 65-and-over population on the state pension rolls compared to a national average of 16.2 per cent. Texas' averager payments are lower — $47.08 per month compared to the national average of $61.39.

During the past fiscal year the State Welfare Department paid out $125,353,296 for old age pensions. Of this, 30 per cent was state funds, the rest federal.

Judging Team Places Second At National Contest

Milam Countys 4-H Club Poultry Judging Team placed second at the recent National Contest held in Chicago. Team members are: Carroll Wayne Glaser of Buckholts, Joe Walzel, Adrian Richter and Eugene Michalka all of Cameron. J. D. Moore, Milam County Agent coached the team and accompanied them on the trip to Chicago.

Carroll Wayne Glaser was high point individual of the entire contest and received a gold watch. He also received a fountain pen for giving the best set of oral reasons on the classes judged and two medals in other divisions.

Joe Walzel was 4th high individual and received two medals. Adrian Richter received a fountain pen for placing 4th in giving oral reasons. The team tied for first place in the Market Poultry Division.

Total team score was 4129 points out of a possible 4500. They were only 12½ points behind the Illinois team that placed first.

Other states placed in this order: Kansas, Fla., Virginia, So. Dakota, Kentucky, Michigan, Arkansas, Indiana, La., Tenn., Neb., Okla., and Mo.

The expenses for the trip were paid by the Texas Poultry Improvement Association.

'59 Dodge Now On Display At Schiller Motors

Driver comfort, convenience and control features—including swing out, swivel seats - highlight the 1959 Dodge, while jet-age refinements of the dart look create a new and distinctive exterior design now on display at Schiller Motors.

The swivel-type front seats, an instrument panel concentrated more closely around a new "easier-to-get-by" stering wheel, plus pushbutton control of virtually all driver operations, head the list of 1959 advancements inside the new cars.

New styling treatment of both front and rear, side and roof, and sharply defined, canted rear fins introduce a dramatically new concept of styling.

Ride-ability and roadability of the 1959 Dodge have been improved through advances in the Torsion-Aire suspension system, coupled with optional rear end Level-Flit suspension.

Located at the intersection US 77 - US 190 and SH 36, Schiller Motors fatures a one-stop service at the agency auto department and at Schiller's Humble Service Station.

The aggressive Dodge-Plymouth dealership is ably managed by Partners Milton J. Schiller and Jerry B. Schiller.

"Our one-stop service includes a complete wash, lubrication and polish service plus minor repair or a major overhaul if the motorist's car needs it," Milton Schiller says.

County Reports 16 Tuberculosis Cases In 1958

Dr. T. E. Crump, acting director of the Milam County Health Unit reported one new case of tuberculosis in the monthly health unit report. Dr. Crump added that there had been 16 cases of tuberculosis in Milam County so far this year.

The report stated that activities by the medical and nursing staff centerd chiefly around school immunizations during November. Immunizations were completed in the schools of Ad Hall, Sharp, Davilla, San Gabriel, Buckholts and Marak. Immunizations were started in Aycock, Thorndale, Milano and Gause.

One hundred and thirty polio series and seventeen booster shots were completed by the Health Unit in November. Dr. Crump attributed the increase to a case of paralytic polio discovered in Branchville.

Reported cases of communicable diseases during November were: 88 cases of streptococcal infection, 3 cases of measles, 2 cases of whooping cough, 3 cases of tuberculosis, 3 cases of gonorrhea, 2 cases of influenza and 4 cases of pneumonia.

Dr. Crump also reported that the rodent control program in the City of Thorndale was completed early in November and that plans were being formulated for a rodent control program in Cameron in the near future.

Security Information For Farm Operators

By J. D. Moore
County Agent

Our office has been asked to release the following information regarding social security for farm operators.

Some farm operators are under some misconceptions about the Social Security Law, such as (1) believing that 2 or 3 years' coverage is all they need for benefits and (2) the program is on a volunteer basis. Also some do not understand that coverage is nearly always available on an optional basis for those years that they do not net as much as $400.

The attached letter is addressed to you with the hope that you may use it or part of it in your contacts with farmers, through your news media or any other way you may find it useful.

As you know, some changes were made in the Social Security Law by the recent Congress. Some of these changes are: 1, Benefit payments have been increasd. 2, Maximum family benfits were increased to $254 per month. 3, Dpendents of persons qualifying for disability payments ar now eligible for payments. 4, All benefits are payable in full even though a veteran's pension or other pensions are being received.

To qualify for these benefits, a person must pay social security taxes regularly over a period of years. For example, a farmer born in January 1904 will need 9 years' credit to be eligible for ANY retirement benefits at age 65, and he will need 13 years' credit to get the best advantage of the program. Of course, if he becomes disabled or dies before reaching age 65, he will not need that much credit for disability benefits or survivors benefits.

As you know, all farm operators make a profit of $400 or more in a year are covered by the Social Security Law, and they must file an income tax return and pay the small self-employment tax at the end of the year. This gives them one year's credit.

But what about the year they have heavy expenses and do not make as much as $400 profit? Congress provided a special option for farmers and ranchers so they could keep their social secuirty paid up even if they did not make $400 profit. This option works this way. If a farmer's gross farm income is $600 or more in a year, he may get social security credit up to $1200 by paying the tax on 2-3 of his gross farm income up to $1800 gross. Since the Internal Revenue Code requires all persons who gross $600 in a year to file an income tax return anyway, this does not require a special return.

We hope that farmers of this area never have another bad year. But if they do, they can protect thier rights and the rights of their dependents to retirement, disability, or survivors benefits by using the option and paying a few dollars in social security taxes. It might make the difference between a comfortable life for themselves and their families later, or a life of need.

This information is from your district office in Temple, Texas, 415 First ational Bank Building Maurice M. Chastain, District Manager.

Cotton Stalk Destruction

Agriculture Commissioner John White said federal and state authorties were "holding the line" on the cotton plow-up program in two control zones with no blanket extension expected byond the Nov. 30 deadline.

Central Texas cotton growers in Zone 6 will be expected to clear their fields of stalks within the allotted time. Only a few "extreme hardship" cases will be considered for individual extensions, White said. No extensions have been necessary in Zone 6.

White said if some farmers considered it impossible to meet the deadline because of wt fields or

Care Recommended

Winterizing Farm Machinery

Up to 30 per cent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter care. And, too, points out W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, time will be saved in getting the machinery back on the job when it is needed.

Ulich says machinery should be kept under a shelter, if possible, when it is not in use. All bright metal parts such as mower sickles plow wings, cultivator and other plow points as well as all working parts of the machines should be coated with grease or a rust inhibitor. Rubber tires should be blocked up to take the weight of the machine off of them while in storage.

Gasoline, he says, should be drained from auxiliary motors. Spark plugs should be removed and three or four ounces of cylinder oil dropped into each cylinder. The motor should be turned a few times to distribute the oil and the plugs replaced.

Cooling systems on all motors not used during the winter season should be drained. A cover should be placed over the engine exhaust pipe to keep out moisture. All machinery should get a thorough lubrication job when it goes into storage and batteries removed and checked regularly to see that they remain fully charged.

While the machines are in storage, Ulich suggests that they be thoroughly checked for worn and broken parts. Repairs can be made during the slack season and no time will be lost when the machines are again needed in the field.

Since spraying machines are precision equipment, Ulich says they need special care at storage time. The sprayer should be flushed with warm, soapy water and rinsed with clear water. Dismantle the equipment and drain the tank, pump, valves, hoses, pipes and nozzles. All water should be removed to prevent possible damage from freezing, says the engineer.

A light coating of oil should be applied to the inside of the tank after it has dried and metal piston and gear pumps should be filled with oil. Nozzles should be cleaned and stored where they will not be damaged. Farm costs can be cut and machinery life lengthened by proper winter care, concludes Ulich.
